4 Domain registration

4.1 Registration

Domain name registrations are for a limited term, which ends on the expiration date communicated to you. A domain name submitted through us will be deemed active when the relevant registry accepts your application and activates your domain name registration or renewal. We cannot guarantee that you will obtain a desired domain name, even if an inquiry indicates that a domain name is available at the time of application. We are not responsible for any inaccuracies or errors in the domain name registration or renewal process.

4.2 Expiry

The registered domain name will expire on the expiration date as communicated to you. In the event that you fail to renew the domain name in a timely fashion, the registration will expire and we may, at our discretion, elect to assume the registration and we may hold it in our account, delete it, or sell it to a third party. During the period following the expiration of a domain name, the domain name will cease to resolve. You acknowledge and agree that your right and interest in a domain name ceases upon its expiration. You are solely responsible for informing yourself of the date of expiration and renewing its registration in a timely manner. Additional costs for the redemption and re-registration will apply.

4.3 Suspension

We, in our sole discretion, may suspend or cancel your domain name registration:

1. if you breach this agreement
2. if you fail to provide payment or accurate contact or billing information
3. in the event of an error in the registration process for a domain name
4. as required by ICANN or a registry operator

5. to protect our integrity and stability and that of any applicable registry
6. to comply with any applicable laws, government rules, requests of law enforcement and court orders
7. in compliance with any dispute resolution process
8. to avoid any liability, civil or criminal

4.4 Registrant information

You must provide the following information as part of the domain name registration process, and promptly correct and update during the term of the registration:

1. Name and postal address of the registered name holder
2. Registered name
3. Names of the primary nameserver and secondary nameserver(s) for the registered name
4. Name, postal address, e-mail address, and voice and fax (if available) telephone numbers of the administrative contact for the domain name
5. Name, postal address, e-mail address, and voice and fax (if available) telephone numbers of the billing contact for the domain name
6. Name, postal address, e-mail address, and voice and fax (if available) telephone numbers of the technical contact for the domain name

4.5 Accurate information

You represent and warrant that:

1. the statements that you make in connection with the domain name registration, maintenance, or renewal are complete and accurate
2. your information will be kept current
3. you will not and will not permit others to use the domain name in violation of any ICANN or registry policies, applicable laws or regulations, or legal rights of others
4. you will respond to inquiries from us addressed to the email address of you, the administrative, billing or technical contact with respect to a domain name concerning the accuracy of contact details

You acknowledge that a breach of this section will constitute a material breach of the Agreement, which will entitle either us or a registry to terminate this agreement immediately upon such breach without any refund and without notice to you.

4.6 ICANN required disclosures

Domain name registration requires sharing your information, in whole or in part, with the applicable registry operator and with ICANN. As required by ICANN, this information must be made publicly available by means of WHOIS, and the registry operator also may be required to make this information publicly available by WHOIS. Both we and the registry operator may be required to archive this information with a third-party escrow service. You consent to and permit all such required disclosures. Further, you represent and warrant that, if you are providing information about a third party, you have notified the third party of the required disclosures and the purpose for the disclosures and you have obtained the third party's consent to such disclosure. ICANN may establish or modify the guidelines, limits or requirements that relate to the amount and type of information that we may or must make available to the public or to private entities, and the manner in which such information is made available.

4.7 No guarantee

You acknowledge that registration of a chosen domain name does not confer immunity from objection to the registration, reservation, or use of the domain name.

4.8 Designated agent

Both we as well as you shall be considered designated agents of registered names with regard to the management and registration of a domain name with regard to ICANN, registry, or other parties involved in the registration process. As a designated agent of the registered name, we are at any time authorized to execute transactions deemed necessary for the management of a domain name including data updates or transfers.

4.9 Loss of accreditation

In the event that we, in accordance with the policies of the registry, can not maintain the registration of your domain name or our accreditation, we shall be entitled to extraordinary termination of the registration agreement with you with 14 days to the end of the month.

4.10 Annoucements

We reserve the right to distribute information to you that is required by ICANN or Registry policy.

4.11 Inconsistencies with registry policies

In the event that this agreement may be inconsistent with any term, condition, policy or procedure of an applicable registry, the term, condition, policy or procedure of the applicable registry shall prevail.

4.12 Transfers

By applying for a domain transfer from another provider to us, you confirm that you are authorized to dispose over the domain name. After the transfer is completed the domain owner is obliged to review the accuracy of the data on record in the registration database for the domain name and to correct them if necessary. We are authorized to undo domain name transfers in case a previous transfer of the domain name occurred without the authorization of a previous registrant of record, or in case control over the domain was unlawfully lost by a previous registrant of record.

6 Modifications

You can object to modifications within 14 days of the sending date of the notification. If you do not object, the new terms and conditions shall be regarded as accepted by you and shall become part of the contractual relationship.

7 Breach

You agree that failure to abide by any provision of this agreement, any ICANN, registry, URDP, or dispute operating rule or policy, may be considered by us to be a material breach and that we may provide written notice, describing the breach, to you. If within fifteen calendar days of the date of such notice, you fail to provide evidence, which is reasonably satisfactory to us, that you have not breached your obligations under the agreement, then we may delete resources associated with this agreement. Any such breach by you shall not be deemed to be excused simply because we did not act earlier in response to that, or any other, breach by you.
